MORE TELEGRAMS SCANNED TODAY

Bennett Messages to McLean Studied by the Committee

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 5—Before calling any witnesses today the oil committee held an executive session to examine additional telegrams supplied by the Western Union from its Washington office.

WASHINGTON, March 5—Not only the charges against two members of congress, but evidence relating to other suggestions of wrongdoing by officials in Washington, as well, will be laid before a federal grand jury here immediately.

White house officials said today that all phases of evidence adduced by a recent Chicago jury and not passed on there for lack of jurisdiction, would be gone into by a grand jury here.

The subjects expected to come under the inquiry involve charges that one or more high officials used official information for purposes of speculation, that liquor permits were wrongfully produced through use of money and that official government files were turned over to persons not entitled to them.

For the present no official will discuss details of these charges nor disclose in what direction the inquiry may lead.

The development has created a stir in official circles, however, second only to that which followed the oil disclosures.

President Coolidge announced last night that charges against the two members of the house, involving acceptance of money in connection with the release of federal prisoners would be thoroughly investigated by a grand jury.

Prior to that the senate veterans committee had held two sessions to consider the charges and a resolution for an investigation had been introduced in the house.

John H. Crim, who was in charge of the Chicago investigation, had conferred with members of both senate and house, but he has declined to furnish them the names of those involved or any other details, taking the position the evidence required further development before any of it may be divulged. It was developed incidentally at Chicago in connection with the veterans bureau inquiry that resulted in indictment of Charles R. Forbes.

Mr. Crim also has reported the fact to the white house, leaving to President Coolidge the decision as to what action should be taken. Today's announcement was interpreted as an indication that the executive was prepared to demand a completing sifting of evidence.

WASHINGTON, March 5—While the oil committee was obtaining more important information in a private examination of telegrams today opposition developed to the confirmation of Samuel Knight, of San Francisco, to be special government counsel in the litigation for the recovery of California oil land from the Standard Oil company of California.

Senator Walsh, of Montana, prosecutor of the oil inquiry, announced that he had been reliably informed that Mr. Knight is counsel for the Monckton and his wife separated years ago when a young German was found, a supposed suicide, in her apartment.

CENTRAL DEFEATS DANVILLE SCHOOL

Central high school closed her basketball season Tuesday evening with a 37 to 25 victory over Danville high school.

Danville got off to an early lead, but the Central offensive soon began functioning and the lead was whittled away and Central advanced to the front never to be headed, although some of the local strength seemed to be missing in the second half.

Danville depended largely on long shots, being more than ordinarily proficient from near the middle of the floor, outside closely guarded territory.

Danville brought a very fast team here and one which required Central to extend to win.

NEW HIGH RECORD IS MADE BY PLANT

A new high record in production has been recently established by the Cooper-Wells Knitting plant, when in one day recently 642 dozen pairs of hose were knitted. On another day recently the plant made 630 dozen pairs of hose.

The prediction made by J. O. Wells, president of the company, that 1,000 dozen pairs of hose would be made here in a day when all the machinery is used, is fast coming true.

New machinery is being installed regularly by Superintendent King of the local knitting mill, J. O. Wells, is now in Los Angeles, California, for a month's rest.

JEFFERS SUGGESTS A NEW BONUS PLAN

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 5—A two-fold soldier bonus plan, providing option for full cash payments, or paid up insurance, was proposed to the House ways and means committee today by a committee of veterans representing House democrats.

Representative Jeffers, Alabama, chairman of the democratic committee, who presented the plan, argued the government owed former service men adjusted compensation, which should be paid in coin of the realm. Full cash payment would eliminate administrative difficulty and cost involved in other bonus programs, Mr. Jeffers said, and would enable the government to settle the whole question for a year.

"If all veterans elected to take the cash payment, it would cost $1,319,500,000," said Mr. Jeffers, "which could be met by a bond issue." He favored compensation for officers up to the rank of captain.

The same basis of figuring adjusted compensation used in the bill passed last session, $1.00 for home service and $1.25 for overseas service, would be applied in the plan, and to be limited to $500 for home service and $625 for overseas service.

On the McKenzie bill, now before the committee, which is similar to that vetoed by President Harding, cash payments would go to those only who are entitled to more than $50.

Heaviest Rainfall Recorded Tuesday

One of the heaviest night rains to fall here came last night when, according to the official report of Mrs. A. H. Irons of the federal weather bureau, 3 and 10-15 inches of rain fell.

Mrs. Irons stated that the Tennessee river gauge registered 11.4 feet with the water falling. Should the rain of last night have been general, Mrs. Irons stated that the river waters are due to begin rising soon.

RAIL WORKERS UNIT INSTALLS OFFICERS FOR ENSUING YEAR

Thomas Hodson Named First Conductor by Unanimous Vote

BANQUET SERVED TO MEMBERSHIP

Mutual Meeting Plan Is One of Objects of the Organization

Organization of the Benefit Association of Railway employees, made up largely of employees of the local Louisville and Nashville railroad shops was affected last night at a rousing meeting held in Odd Fellows hall on Second avenue.

By unanimous vote the honor of being conductor, the highest office in the gift of the local organization, was accorded Thomas Hodson, general foreman of the car department of the local railroad shops.

The voting was spirited after the first official was seated and additional officers were elected as follows:

Engineer, J. R. Collier, secretary, J. W. Manning; motorman, C. E. Winstead; fireman, J. T. Thompson; machinist, J. T. Wilkes; brakeman, E. P. McDonald, flagman, W. M. Griffin; board of trustees, C. W. Matthews, chairman, Eugene Morrow, B. D. Braham; committee on sick and visiting, J. R. Collier, H. J. Nolan, H. H. Malone, committee on hall, R. L. Eakes, A. E. Humphrey, M. D. Dixon; entertainment, B. Black, G. Young, A. B. Weathers.

Conducted By Frank

The meeting was conducted by E. L. Frank, assisted by H. R. Summer. Mr. Bloomfield, national treasurer from Chicago, installed the officers and explained their duties to the newly elected officers.

Mr. Bloomfield told of the aims of the organization, that while their primary mission was to see through medium of their insurance, that each man who was forced to lose time through illness or injury, was compensated for the said loss, that the organization had a message that was a great deal more far reaching than the mere extension of health and accident protection. He explained that the B. A. R. E. was a link that was three fold. It was to tie in the bonds of a common interest the men of the railroad their superior officers and the merchants of the Twin Cities who depended on the Railroad company, its employees and their officials for their commercial existence.

The purpose of the B. A. R. E. is to arrange a mutual meeting plan between men and merchants in order to alleviate or rather exterminate the misunderstandings that arise from time to time, to devise means by which the men who are sometimes unable to meet obligations through no faults of theirs, would be helped without the resort to the usual methods that were not productive, generally, of anything but strained relations. That the worthy would be helped and the unworthy would not cause the good to suffer.

The sick will be helped, the crisis that might arise through illness will be aided by concerted effort of both men and merchants.

And in all events the men and the merchants that they do business will be afforded an opportunity to meet on a common ground and be thus enabled to work out plans that would result to their mutual advantages.

COMMERCE BOARD WIRES MEININGER OFFERING HIM JOB

Texas Replies That He Wants Ten Days to Wind Up Affairs

FAMILIAR WITH CONDITIONS HERE

New Secretary Highly Recommended by Numerous Firms

Within ten days the Albany-Decatur chamber of commerce will have a trained general secretary in the person of W. J. Meininger, of Houston, Texas.

President Rahm has been in touch with Mr. Meininger for several weeks, and has urged him to enter the employment of the local chamber of commerce, following assurances given by practically all the merchants and business men of the cities, that they will earnestly cooperate in building up the present membership of the chamber to where there will be sufficient funds to warrant a large program of activities, such as Mr. Meininger desires attempted.

At the recent meeting of the board of directors of the chamber they authorized the employment of Mr. Meininger, and Mr. Rahm wired him to report here as early as possible.

The Houston man replied that he wished 10 days in which to wind up his affairs and that he might be expected about March 15.

Knows Conditions

It appeared from statements made to Mr. Rahm, by Mr. Meininger that the latter is fully conversant with conditions in Alabama and especially in the Tennessee Valley.

The new secretary is highly recommended by a number of firms and prominent men.

The Concrete Products company of Birmingham, a prominent firm of contractors, and as well known legal firm, are among those commending the skill and ability of Mr. Meininger.

Mr. Rahm stated that while the membership of the chamber was increasing, and was now some larger than at this time last year, it was a self evident fact that more must join if the chamber is to function in such a way as to insure large results.

Immediately upon the arrival of Mr. Meininger, a campaign will be opened for "A Greater Chamber of Commerce," Mr. Rahm stated, and that plans are now on foot to have everything in readiness for soliciting members by March 15.

Rehearsal Held by Community Choir

The community singers held a rehearsal at the Central Baptist church Tuesday night and on Monday night at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. another rehearsal will be held.

Authorities of the organization have explained that under no circumstances will the rehearsals last over one hour. This rule was made to encourage those who have limited time for community service to join in the effort to continue the Sunday afternoon community sings as given when B. B. Pickens was the director.

The rehearsal Tuesday night was under the direction of C. H. Johnson, with the accompaniments being played by Mrs. Johnson.

It is planned that just as soon as a class of singers have prepared a number of hymns, solos and duets, to continue the Sunday afternoon sacred concerts.

DECATUR DISTRICT CONFERENCE NOW

IN 3-DAY MEETING

More Than 60 Members Registered Early at Hartselle Session

LOCAL PEOPLE IN ATTENDANCE

Rev. McGlawn Presides Over Conference of Methodists

BY ADLAI WEST
Special to The Daily

HARTSELLE, Ala., March 5—The Decatur district conference convened here Tuesday at 2 p. m. for a three days session. Up to 4 o'clock more than 60 ministers and delegates had registered, and assigned to their homes by card.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the meeting was called to order by the presiding elder, Rev. Walter P. McGlawn, of Decatur, who announced hymn No. 291, which was sung in its entirety, the entire congregation joining heartily in singing, reminding one vividly of the old camp meeting occasions. The congregation was led in prayer by the presiding elder, after which a portion of scripture was read from the sixteenth chapter of Matthew, and remarks made thereon.

The next order of business was roll call, a goodly number of ministers and delegates responding.

Pastor Elected

The election of secretary was next in order, and M. Pattillo was put in nomination and elected without a dissenting vote.

It was decided to hold the business sessions of the conference in the morning from 8:30 to 11:00 and at eleven o'clock preaching services would be held. The afternoon services were designated to begin at 2 p. m., and evening preaching service was set for 7:30 o'clock.

At this point several substitutes were announced from various charges and these were duly recorded.

The chairman then read the appointment of the personnel of the various committees of work during the sessions of the conference.

Next came the introduction of visitors, when the following were presented to the conference, the members residing during the introduction: Dr. S. L. Dobbs, secretary of the Christian Education movement; Dr. F. W. Brandon, superintendent Methodist Hospital, Montgomery; Rev. M. E. Lazenby, editor of the Alabama Christian Advocate, Birmingham; Brother Northcutt, superintendent Methodist Orphanage; Rev. Foust, pastor East Lake Church; Brother McDonald, superintendent Sunday School work; Dr. S. A. Steel, pastor First Church, Decatur.

Applications Received

The chairman announced that three applications to preach had been received, these names were referred to the committee.

Pastors reports were called for, the first responding was Rev. J. D. Hunter of Central Methodist, Albany, who spoke enthusiastically of his work there, his report reflecting the as-

ROUTINE BUSINESS SET ASIDE TO KEEP UP DEBATE ON BILL

Avalanche of Votes to Continue Debate by Representatives

MICHIGAN SOLON IS FIRST SPEAKER

James Guesses Report From Hull Written by T. W. Martin

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 5—The house today set aside routine business in order to consider Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals. This was done on motion of Representative Longworth, the republican leader, who declared there should be no interruption in the debate begun yesterday.

As the house resumed its discussion of the McKenzie bill, providing for acceptance of the Ford bill, nearly seven hours of debate was in order before amendments to the proposed contract could be offered.

Mr. Longworth told the house he was confident a vote on the McKenzie bill would be reached before the end of the week.

A group of house members, opposed to setting aside business on the calendar, which included a wide range of miscellaneous bills, made a determined fight against the Longworth motion but mustered only 36 votes against 223 in the affirmative.

Debate Underway

As general debate got underway again, Representative James, of Michigan, a republican member of the military committee, who favored acceptance of the Ford bid, took the floor with 40 minutes allotted him to discuss the proposition.

Mr. James said he absolved Mr. Hull from all blame for writing the minority report. It contradicted his former utterances, he declares, for Mr. Hull was formerly a strong advocate of the Ford offer.

"My guess is that it was written by Thomas W. Martin, president of the Alabama Power company," said Mr. James, "Mr. Hull was the only man on the committee who had an opportunity to see Mr. Ford and he told him his offer would pass the house."

Pressed by Mr. Hull to yield at this point, Mr. James refused and continued his address.

Operated By Americans

"If Henry Ford takes over Muscle Shoals," Mr. James declared, "it will be operated by Americans with American capital. On the other hand," he added, "there is a heavy investment of Canadian capital in the Alabama Power company, one of the concerns seeking to lease Muscle Shoals."

"International financiers, through the Alabama Power company," he said, "are determined to get a grip on Muscle Shoals. This is not a fight between members of congress as to the future of Muscle Shoals, but a fight between the power and fertilizer trust and those who believe in furnishing farmers cheap fertilizer and being prepared to manufacture nitrates for explosives in time of war."

The announced intention of Mr. Ford to extend power lines 200 miles in all directions from Muscle Shoals Mr. James told the house, is the real reason the Alabama Power company and its president, Mr. Martin, is fighting the Detroit manufacturer's offer.

Hits At Hull

Mr. James at one juncture declared: "Cease had his Brutus, Washington his Benedict Arnold and our colleague from Iowa (Mr. Hull) his Tom Martin."

CHURCH NEWS AND ITS VALUE IN THE NEWSPAPER COLUMNS

Ever so often The Daily hears someone grumbling because this newspaper sees fit to publish such a great amount of information about the churches of the Twin Cities and Morgan county, and their activities.

Fortunately these complainers are few and likely their complaints are based more on a lack of complete understanding of the importance of the churches in our civic life than any desire to see The Daily copy the "yellow journal" standards which have proved so popular in some other sections of the country.

The Twin Cities fundamentally are church-going and church-loving communities. The Daily is proud that they are. Few cities of our size in the South can boast of more churches in ratio to population than our cities. The development of this phase of our religious life has been rapid during the past decade. If the publicity The Daily has given to the work has been of the slightest aid, The Daily feels amply repaid.

The Daily regrets that there are any who might find scandal more interesting reading than a sermon, a triangle murder of more concern, than the activities of our churches, but The Daily says now to those who complain, that their complaints are wasted in so far as this newspaper is concerned, for just so long as it is given the power, it will continue to publish legitimate church news as it has in the past, and hopes that it may be given the opportunity to help in its own small way, the continued growth and expansion of our community's religious enterprises, which, after all, are the most important ones.

PULLMAN TIPS ARE DIVIDENDS

The traveling public on first blush may draw a sigh of relief that the Pullman company has increased the wages of its porters eight per cent, which is said to amount to more than a million dollars a year. On second thought, however, the traveling public will realize that George or John or Henry, as the case may be, will continue to smile expectantly when he brushes the traveling public's coat or handles its suitcase, and will collect as many tips as ever. And the traveling public will continue to supplement the Pullman porter pay roll, just the same, to protect itself from neglect when the gratuity is not cheerfully forthcoming.

Everybody knows that the wages of Pullman porters do not approach their total incomes. There is ground for the view that the porters wouldn't think of working for the company on the pay offered. Indeed, it is known that some porters on what are known as big-rich tourist routes, and between cities, many of whose people measure folks' financial standing by the size of the tips they dispense, receive several times as much in gratuities as they do in wages. The Pullman company pays only part; the traveling public does the rest. It may not be an ideal arrangement from the view of fair dealing; but the public has grown accustomed to stand and deliver in one form or another, and it is not easy to abandon old customs.

In the last analysis who are the beneficiaries of the Pullman tip system? In 1915 an official of the Pullman company, testifying before the federal trade commission on industrial relations, was asked if his porters were not supposed to supplement their pay of $27.50 per month with tips from the public. The official nodded affirmation, and added that the tips would continue regardless of the wages paid. He also admitted that the stockholders of the Pullman company were the real tip-takers. Of course there were also the Pullman enterprise might resent the charge of being beneficiaries of a system whereby a considerable part of their income consists of gratuities. Yet the tip arrangement works to their direct benefit because of its consideration in the fixing of porters' wages.

The Pullman porter realizes that he will get his tips, no matter what his wages are, and he is more interested in the possible total of his tips than whether or not eight per cent shall be added to his pay envelope, because he realizes that the tipping public will not deduct that amount from the customary gratuities. George, or John, or Henry will continue to function according to the traveling public's practical appreciation of his services and demeanor en route. And the Pullman company's dividends will be expanded in direct ratio to the sum saved on the score of salaries.—Age-Herald.

CONGRESS AND THE CABINET

If members of the United States Cabinet had seats in Congress and went through a rigorous process of explanation and exposition in that body concerning the affairs of their departments, many people believe the Teapot Dome incident could not have occurred. As it is, however, a member of the cabinet is able to push a far-reaching program without legislative check, and practically on his own responsibility. It is worth recalling, moreover, that every other modern democracy gives the Legislature a chance to check up the work of its executive officials by their appearance before it, and that the United States is the one exception to the rule only because of an accident in historical development which has allowed the Cabinet system to grow up outside of the American Constitution. That American Cabinet members should have seats in Congress has been approved by such men as Elihu Root and William Howard Taft, who have affirmed that such an arrangement would provide the legislative check necessary to co-ordinate the government departments and to forestall in advance just such a humiliating situation as this in which the country now finds itself.

With Cabinet members out of reach of direct congressional inquiries, it must be admitted that legislative questioning today often comes after, instead of before, the event. The questioning is achieved by the multiplicity of investigating committees with which the nation is only too familiar. Indeed, Washington observers sometimes declare that no federal undertaking nowadays reaches any degree of progress without being pursued, sooner or later, by a legislative inquiry, which brings a delay that might well have been avoided if the proper questions had been put in the first place.

A case offered to point the charge is the recent long-range controversy between Senator James Couzens and Secretary Andrew Mellon on the subject of tax reductions. Here were two outstanding officials actively engaged in the business of governing, each disagreeing heartily with the other on a matter affecting the nation's uttermost welfare, yet unable or unwilling, because of the Cabinet from Legislature, to meet in an open, man-to-man debate. Instead of such a debate that would have fixed the issue once and for all in the thought of the whole country, the two kept at opposite ends of the capital and exchanged broadsides by penny post.

The members of the Cabinet should have seats, without votes, in Congress, advocates of this arrangement declare, for these two reasons: first, because it would introduce an era of close-range debates and enhance the interest of the governed in the affairs of the government; and secondly, because it would speed up business and prevent the United States from being drawn into another Teapot Dome affair with its eyes blindfolded.—Christian Science Monitor.

It is said an ordinary machine can have too much oil—much less governmental machinery.

Most of the good deeds performed were considerably over due.

There would not remain a shadow of doubt as to the success of the Ford bid if it were not true that "hope long deferred maketh the heart sick."

Mr. Levermore should worry about the controversies over his winning essay unless they try to make him return his prize money.

This matter of enforcing honesty is getting serious, when government officials are threatened with punishment.

Present "Hoodoo" in Hartselle Soon

The Albany High school students with their director, Miss Gladys Bernhardt will present "The Hoodoo" comedy in three acts at the city school auditorium, Hartselle, Friday evening at 7:30 p. m.

"The Hoodoo" as presented here January 18, at the Masonic theater proved to be one of the best and most highly entertaining amateur plays ever presented in the Twin Cities. Although every seat was taken and standing room a premium there have been dozens of requests received at the high school to repeat the play. One Albany merchant after witnessing the performance sent a donation of one dollar stating that he enjoyed it so much he felt as if he hadn't paid enough.

Others who were present said "The Hoodoo" players would be a credit to many professional companies. More than one hundred loyal supporters have pledged their cars and presence at Hartselle when "The Hoodoo" is presented there Friday evening.

The following will take part in the play: Fred Bloodworth, Irvin Mitchell, Robert Nebrig, Roy Kirby, Glen Lee, Sam Barnes, Elsie Evans, Peggy Davis, Mildred Chunn, Helen Nebrig, Louise Almon, Lura Mae Graham.

If you are ruptured, your big opportunity has now arrived. If you want to be free from the slavery of gougging, chafing trusses that make life a burden and misery, then HERE and NOW is the time to act.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Weeden, experts in rupture cases, trained under the personal direction of W. S. Rice, of Adams, N. Y., originator of the famous Rice (Non-Surgical) Rupture Method, will be at the Echols Hotel, Decatur, Ala., Thursday, March 6, and at the Twickenham Hotel, Huntsville, Ala., Friday and Saturday, March 7 and 8, to give free demonstration and trial of his safe and painless Method to every man, woman and child who is ruptured.

You have, no doubt, heard and read much about this famous Rice Rupture Method and the wonderful cures which thousands have reported from it. Now, you have the chance to find out all about it—to have it personally applied to your rupture and learn just what it can and will do in YOUR OWN case. Just call at the hotel and these Experts will give you their personal attention, best advice and complete demonstration absolutely without charge.

Are you tired of that binding, hampering, uncomfortable old truss? Would you like to be done with truss wearing forever? Then investigate this Rice Method and learn the wonderful opportunity for help and cure it offers. Remember it is different from anything else and is accomplished by wonderful results where all other treatments, and even operations, failed. It is modern, up-to-the-minute, abreast of the latest scientific developments. It is the one Rupture Method you are not asked to take on faith alone—the one Method that is positively demonstrated to you right on your own rupture, without any charge whatever.

OF SPECIAL IMPORTANCE TO RUPTURED WOMEN.

Trusses in common use are not suited to women and often do great injury. That is why women suffer more and are in greater danger from rupture than men. This visit is, therefore, of special importance to ruptured women who for the first time since they became ruptured are afforded the opportunity of obtaining the personal advice and help of a Lady Expert, who is thoroughly qualified and equipped to meet every need and render service of the very highest order and value to everyone who accepts her help.

Don't let this great opportunity get away from you. Your call on the Rice Experts is sure to prove one of the best things you ever did. They will be there only one day, then your opportunity will be gone. Remember, you do not spend a penny unless after having a complete demonstration, you decide this is the Method for you and you—you alone—are the sole judge of that.

Call any time from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., or from 7 to 9 evenings. Simply ask at the hotel desk for the Rice Experts and they will do the rest.

WHICH?

Copyright, 1924, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

A VIOLET, timid and afraid—frail, elusive, demure. And when a passer-by stoops to pluck her from her modest place of hiding, she shrinks and escapes his touch. Some passers-by may grow indifferent to the violet who so avoids all admiration. Little do they know that she will lift her face and bare her golden heart to the one passer-by whose manly voice bespeaks kindness and understanding. Is it so with the poppy—the gorgeous poppy in all her dazzling hue and splendor? She sails in the breeze and lifts her crimson petals to all the world! She attracts—beguiles, perhaps; but in an instant her beauty fades and her reign is ended. She may laugh at the violet who lies hidden, but was there ever a poppy so cherished or loved?

LITTLE BOY LIVELY AS ANY CRICKET

Mrs. Sauls Says Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup Put New Life in Her Son.

Convincing evidence daily accumulates showing in what high esteem Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is held by careful parents with whom the health and well-being of their children is a constant source of solicitude. Among those who have recently had cause for thankfulness for the splendid benefits derived from the use of this famous old remedy is Mrs. F. S. Sauls, living at Boaz, Ala., who writes: "My little boy was weak and puny and did not play around like other children. We gave him three bottles of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup and he is now lively as a cricket, and is growing right along." Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is sold by all good druggists and if the first bottle does not benefit, your purchase price will be refunded.—Adv.

BINGHAM IS NAMED DECATUR ENGINEER

M. S. Bingham, prominent local engineer, has signed a contract with the city of Decatur to serve as engineer during the completion of the paving program, preliminary plans for which already have been taken.

Mr. Bingham has done work in Morgan County and the agreement he has entered into with Decatur has been the subject of congratulations to him.

cluded with the assertion that he favored the Ford offer because it was submitted by an American who had had never failed his country in time of stress and who was known in the business world for his fair and square dealings. He declared the Ford offer was the only one that would result in actual production of 2,000,000 tons of fertilizer to be sold to farmers at a low price.

Representative Burton, republican, Iowa, then launched a vigorous attack against the Ford offer. Mr. Burton declared a settled policy of government would be violated should the bid be accepted and which he described as being "utterly inadequate."

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The McKenzie bill, providing for the acceptance of the offer of Henry Ford for the government's war time project at Muscle Shoals ran into a parliamentary situation in the house today which threatened a slight delay, but action before the end of the week was regarded as certain.

The measure was taken up yesterday under an agreement limiting general debate to ten hours, with restricted discussion, of amendments to follow and about three hours had been consumed, when the house met this morning under a rule, setting aside today for consideration of miscellaneous bills.

An attempt by Representative Longworth, the republican leader, to get unanimous consent to give the McKenzie bill right-of-way today was blocked yesterday by Representative Graham, republican, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Longworth announced, however, that he would renew his request today in the hope of expressing disapproval of the Ford offer which has been pending before committees for two years.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 5.—Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals, now before congress "should not be accepted until it is amended to conform to the principles of the federal waterpower act," Governor Pinchot declared in a statement today. He set forth seven points on the act, which he said safeguarded the republic and the people in general and asserted that the Ford offer and the bill to accept sacrificed all but one, that insuring complete development.

Unusual Service at First Baptist

Perhaps only once in a life time will anyone be permitted to witness a service like the one that will be held at the First Baptist church, Albany, Thursday night. Two candidates will be examined for the ministry. One of them who has been one of the leading preachers in another denomination for 17 years will be baptized by Pastor S. D. Monroe and then ordained to the full work of the Gospel Ministry in the Baptist church by a presbytery organized for the purpose, consisting of all the Baptist pastors in the Twin Cities.

Dr. W. P. Reeves will preach the ordination sermon.

CLUB TO MEET.

The Morgan Kiwanis Club will hold its regular weekly meeting at the Lyons hotel at noon Thursday.

Grocer Thankful

"I had been sick nearly 20 years with stomach trouble and was slowly starving to death as everything I ate caused terrible gas and pain and my food did not digest. I was reduced to 115 pounds. A friend advised me to take Mayr's Wonderful Remedy about 4 months ago, which I did and now weigh 151 pounds and can eat anything. I am very thankful for Mayr's Wonderful Remedy." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. By druggists everywhere.—Adv.

The last number on the program was given by Mrs. Sherrill and she took for her topic "Christ in Art" which she pictured very creditably from century to century. "THE LIGHT BRINGER"
In memory of L. J. Whitley.
Beside you dear I knelt for prayer,
And felt a presence as I prayed,
Ho! It was Jesus standing there
He smiled: "Be not afraid."

"Lord, thou hast conquered death, I know;
Restore again to life, I said,
This one who died a week ago.
He smiled: "He is not dead!"

Asleep then, as thyself didst say;
Yet thou canst lift the lids that keep
His prisoned eyes from mine away!
He smiled: "He doth not sleep."

"Nay then, tho' haply he do wake,
And look upon some fairer dawn,
Restore him to my heart that aches"
He smiled: "He is not gone."

Alas, too well I know my loss,
Nor hope again by joy to touch.
Until the stream of death I cross,
He smiled: "There is no such."

Yet my loved ones seem so far,
The while I yearn to feel him near,
Albeit with thee I trust he is,
He smiled: "And I am here!"

Dear Lord, how shall I know that he Still walk unseen with us and thee,
Nor sleep, nor wander for away?"
He smiled: "Abide in me."

"Be Be"

We wish to thank our many friends for their kindness shown us during the long illness and death of our precious loved one, especially do we thank each one for the beautiful florals and use of cars. And to the Legion boy's who so tenderly bore him to his last resting place. May God's richest blessings abide with you.

AMUSEMENTS

What the Press Agents Say

One of the most spectacular fire scenes ever screened will be seen in "The Midnight Alarm" at the Princess theater today. A complete four-story office building is burned down to give spectators thrills in the film.

The fire sequence is an integral part of the story of "The Midnight Alarm" which revolves about the disappearance of a girl at childhood and the attempts of her father's business partner to keep her from gaining her wealth. Miss Alice Calhoun plays the role of Sparkle, a waif, who really is Susan Thornton, missing heiress. Percy Marmont appears as a fire captain and rescues her from the burning building in which she is imprisoned in a vault.

Cullen Landis is a pleasing crook in the film. He helps Sparkle regain proof of her identity. Joseph Kilgour plays the villain. He is Silas Carrington, one of the most heartless and cunning type ever characterized on the screen.

FLETCHER LOOKS TO RING

TO HELP HIM OUT IN 1924
NEW YORK—One of the chief hopes of Arthur Fletcher's Philadelphia Nationals in their attempt to escape cellar depths in 1924 will be Jimmy Ring, veteran moundman. With a last place club in 1923, Ring won 18 and lost 15 games, one of the outstanding pitching feats of the season. This year he hopes to do even better, particularly with the prospect that he may be aided by a more efficient supporting cast.

Ring showed more stuff last season than any pitcher in the league," says Fletcher in praising the former Cincinnati and Brooklyn flinger. "On a team up in the race what a grand man he would be. He's always ready and willing to work; never crabs about being on a cellar club. Seems to be well satisfied. No matter how many games he wins it never goes to his head, and that is more than can be said about a lot of pitchers. Ring can well be compared to Walter Johnson, who always worked on a lowly team and yet gladly and cheerfully gave his best."

As an instance of his effectiveness, Ring won more complete games than any member of the Giant's pitching staff last year. He allowed but 3.77 earned runs per game.

Made Bald by Collars.

A French hair specialist says that starched collars are the chief cause of men's baldness. Women are not bald at forty as men are because they do not wear tight or stiff collars that press on veins and blood-vessels and thus prevent healthy blood circulation.

Insurance that great things were being done by him and his congregation.

Practically every charge heard from reflected progress and that the first quarter of the new year had been full of work and plans for a broader scope of work.

At this juncture the opportunity was given those visitors present who represented certain special work of the conference in various fields of endeavor, and Dr. S. L. Dobbs was called upon to make a statement of his work as secretary of the Christian Education movement. He responded in his usual pointed and emphatic style, showing that the work in this department was receiving the earnest attention of a consecrated man, who had spent his life in the ministry. He stressed the fact that the work was of great importance, and made a strong appeal for their help in carrying forward this most important phase of Christian work.

Superintendent Speaks.
The superintendent of Sunday school work was called for, and spoke for more than thirty minutes on five different phases of his work, stressing points of thorough organization in Sunday school work, and the use of the various helps his department furnishes.

Shortly after, the work of the afternoon session came to an end, and the announcement that Dr. S. A. Steel, pastor of First Church, Decatur would occupy the pulpit at the evening service, preaching the initial sermon of the conference.

Every train is bringing delegates and ministers, and the actual number in attendance cannot be ascertained until Wednesday as many are due to arrive then. The Methodist homes of Hartsville are meeting the occasion in a worthy manner, and ample provision has been made for all who may attend.

ALABAMIANS! RALLY TO ALABAMA'S GREATEST OPPORTUNITY!

The eyes of the nation will turn on Alabama on March 11th. The nation will look to see how Alabamians regard their opportunity to have a President of the United States.

Alabamians, men and women, have a just pride in their state. Alabamians are loyal to their traditions. Every Alabamian takes pride in the thought of an Alabamian in the White House. Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama is an outstanding Democrat whose fame is nationwide. He has an opportunity to be nominated by the Democrats of the nation as their standard-bearer.

In the face of state pride, in the face of loyalty to our traditions, we must put aside whatever petty differences we have had in the past and unite to the end that Alabama shall have one of her citizens at the helm of the national government. Opportunity is knocking at our door and we must not shut the door in the face of that opportunity which we have never had before in the state's history.

Probably not in the life of an Alabamian now living will an opportunity to have an Alabamian in the White House come again. We must go to the polls on March 11th and by our ballots tell the nation we are as one to put an Alabamian in the White House. We must give Senator Underwood an overwhelming majority. Loyal men and women of Alabama, go to the polls on March 11th, and by your votes tell the nation you see your opportunity and are ready to seize it.

SENATOR UNDERWOOD IS 33RD DEGREE MASON IN GOOD STANDING

Hon. Julian F. Spearman, of Anniston, Past Grand Master of the Masons of Alabama, Answers Letter From Worshipful Master of Jacksonville Lodge No. 42, A. F. & A. M., Concerning Senator Underwood's Masonry

"IS HELD IN HIGH ESTEEM BY MASONIC FRATERNITY OF ALABAMA"

Gives Full Information As to Fellowship Forum and Its Connection With the Masonic Fraternity and States: "Any Attempt to Deliver the Vote of Masons of Alabama for Selfish Purposes Has Always Proved Failure and a Boomerang"

Anniston, Ala., Feb. 25, 1924.
Mr. M. A. Nunnally,
Worshipful Master,
Hiram Lodge No. 42, A. F. & A. M.,
Jacksonville, Ala.

Dear Bro. Nunnally:
Your letter of Feb. 23rd received and in reply will say that I retired as Grand Master on Dec. 6th last, so do not consider this reply as coming from a present official of the Grand Lodge of Alabama. During the two years in which I served the Grand Lodge as its Grand Master it was my pleasure to be associated with Bro. Geo. Fleming Moore, Editor-in-Chief of the Fellowship Forum. I appointed Bro. Moore as Grand Orator of the Grand Lodge of Alabama and regard him as a warm personal friend. I do not mind answering your letter freely and frankly, as I have nothing to conceal, neither do I object to you making public the contents of this letter which is in reply to your letter.

I am reliably informed that Bro. Moore was not requested to resign as the active head of Scottish Rite Masonry for the Southern Jurisdiction, but that he requested that he be transferred from this position which he held for life, and in accordance with his request he was transferred and made the Sovereign Grand Commander for the Scottish Rite of the Southern Jurisdiction Emeritus, with full salary for life.

The Fellowship Forum is not a Masonic periodical. It has never been and is not now the spokesman for Masonry in Alabama. The only thing that is official so far as the Grand Lodge is concerned is the Grand Lodge itself; the Grand Master between the communications of the Grand Lodge and the Masonic Manual published by the Grand Lodge which contains everything but the traditional part of Freemasonry.

In regard to Senator Underwood, he is a 33rd degree Mason and is at present in good standing. He has never repudiated Masonry, neither has Masonry repudiated him. He is held in high esteem by the Masonic Fraternity in Alabama.

Masonry is not a political organization or order. We have on our roster practically 50,000 voters in Alabama who vote as their consciences dictate. We have among our membership both democrats and republicans and some who are neither. We have both the old line parties represented in the Grand Lodge officers. It has been my observation that any attempt to deliver the vote of the Masons of Alabama to serve for selfish purposes has not only been a failure but has always proved to be a boomerang.

Yours fraternally,

JULIAN F. SPEARMAN.

Walsh Is Told He Is an Attorney of Rockefeller Bank

Equitable Trust company, of New York, which is a Rockefeller bank.

According to this information, Senator Walsh said, Mr. Knight is engaged in litigation for that bank in California. He added if the story proved correct it would be best for opposing confirmation by the senate.

Mr. Knight was selected by President Coolidge to bring action under a resolution offered by Senator Walsh, and unanimously adopted by the house and senate. Senator Walsh was not consulted in making the selection.

Refers to Principal.
Foregoing its usual public hearings to examine telegraph records sent here from Palm Beach, the oil committee today found further reference to the principal mentioned in one of the McLean telegrams, previously read.

Some committeemen said they regarded these telegrams as of possible high importance.

Every effort will be made to establish the identity of the principal.

Ira E. Bennett, an editorial writer on The Washington Post, was author of one of the messages sent from Washington January 29 to Edward B. McLean, publisher of The Post. The committee has information that the reference was not to Attorney General Daugherty as he, himself, was in Florida at that time.

The Bennett message said "there was no rocking of the board and no resignation" and that the principal was expecting a reaction from political attacks.

Revival Service to Begin March 15

Beginning Sunday week at the Central Baptist church, a revival meeting will open which is to continue for not less than two weeks and probably longer. Dr. W. P. Reeves, the pastor of the Central Baptist church, stated that the plan was not only to have the usual church services, but that the evangelistic workers are to meet the people on the streets at other public places than the church and in the homes of the people.

"We want to cause our effort to have as far reaching effect as possible. Our evangelist is Gid F. Higginbotham, of Los Angeles, California. He is said to be a big preacher. Physically he is rather large topped the evangelistic singer coming, whose name, I have not yet heard." Dr. Reeves said the revival would begin at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

Georgia Lady Says She Has Grown Stronger by Taking Cardui—Thoroughly Convinced of Its Merits.

Clyattville, Ga.—In a statement which she gave at her home on R. F. D. 1, here, Mrs. T. A. Copeland said: "I have, I believe, avoided a good deal of suffering by the use of Cardui, and am thoroughly convinced that it has been of great benefit to me."

"Before the birth of two of my children, I grew so weak and nervous I could hardly go, and suffered. . . I had a friend who told me of Cardui, so the next time when I grew so weak and run-down I began to use it. I used it three months. I grew stronger and less nervous. The baby was stronger and a better baby, and I really believe it was because I built up my strength with this splendid tonic."

Cardui has been in successful use for more than forty years. Thousands of women have written to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others. It is a mild, harmless, purely vegetable medicinal preparation—a product of practical experience, scientific investigation and pharmaceutical skill. Sold everywhere. NO-119

New York Letter

A new novelist has caught the interest of literary New York. He is Fulton Oursler, a brilliant young writer whose novel, "Behold the Dreamer," has joined the ranks of "best sellers," while he himself is the object of lionizing efforts such as only this city really knows how to make. That is not only because of his achievement of success but because women have discovered from his latest book that is not only because of his achievement somehow seems to give a man a fatal fascination for my sex, although I should think it would only make us highly uncomfortable. Unfortunately for ambitious hostesses, however, this man they declare understands them so wonderfully avoids teas in a most determined manner, and cannot be secured to stand beneath glaring room spotlights. It's one of the literary season. When not writing novels, Mr. Oursler is supervising editor of the Macfadden publications. "Behold the Dreamer" first appeared serially in the Metropolitan magazine.

A special meeting of the Huntsville Presbytery of the Presbyterian church U. S. A. was held Tuesday afternoon at the Willoughby Presbyterian church. Pastors and representatives from Sheffield, Haleyville, Huntsville, Athens, New Market were in attendance. Rev. Herman L. Turner, clerk, stated that the most important item coming before the Presbytery was that of the benevolent apportionment for the year 1924-25. The spring session of Presbytery will be held at Athens in April. Churches made reports on the observance of Sacrificial Loyalty Week which was observed last month.

The ladies of the church served lunch at 6:00 o'clock. At 7:00 o'clock there was a popular meeting, to which the public was invited and which general church questions will be discussed.

Rev. G. C. Partidge and C. P. Loran, both of Birmingham, will speak in the "Progressive Program" at the Presbyterian church in Decatur at 7:30 tonight.

Mr. Partidge is superintendent of home missions for his denomination. Mr. Loran is a business man and for a number of years lived in Decatur. His old friends will be glad to hear him speak. While here he will be with Mr. and Mrs. John D. Wyker.

I wouldn't be at all surprised if it were a woman who thought of that pigeon idea. We seem to be waxing more and more important in the annals of robbery. It certainly must be taken as some sort of triumph for the s's, though, again, a regrettable one. Of course, when the Brooklyn police head has had to organize eight of his best men into a "bob-haired squad" with orders to capture, if it takes all winter, the bob-haired young woman who has been looting Brooklyn shops

Queens County, just next door to Brooklyn, has learned the lesson and s check-mating woman's ability at escaping with members of her own sex to catch her. It holds the world's record for women deputy sheriffs at the moment, with twenty of them. So far, they have served only in an honorary capacity, but the minute a girl band appears in Queens, they will be called out.

It took three languages to get Senorita Leona Mayce and John Mayorana married. The bridegroom is a Sicilian and the bride was born in France of Spanish parents. They had met in the Argentine, and while they understood each other well enough for love-making, it wasn't a sufficient understanding for the repetition of the marriage vows, when the girl arrived this week in Ellis Island to join her fiance. Father Felix Redi heard Mayorana's vows in Italian and the bride's in French, and registered the marriage in English. He advised them to use Spanish on their honeymoon but to learn English soon.

Sagacious Minds.
A powerful and sagacious mind anticipates coming events by forethought, coming to a conclusion somewhat in advance of what may possibly happen in either case, and what ought to be done in that event.

Upon his return today from Bainbridge, Ga., where he has been on business for the past few days, J. R. Daniell well known insurance man of Decatur, stated that he was very much impressed with the efforts being made in the Cracker state for the nomination of Senator Underwood at the democratic national convention for the presidency.

Mr. Daniell stated he noticed the Macon Telegraph was carrying a front page editorial in support of Senator Underwood's candidacy, and that the Georgia people generally were turning to the Alabama senior senator as the national standard bearer of democracy.

Frank Rikert, well-known resident of North Sacramento, Cal., who came to the state from Illinois in a covered wagon in 1864, along with other hardy pioneers, recently exhibited a bottle of Tanlac, which he had just purchased; to a friend at his home and remarked: "If I thought this was the last bottle of Tanlac I would ever be able to buy, I wouldn't take one hundred dollars for it," thus proving the high valuation he places on the famous treatment.

"But, thanks to my wife's insistence, I kept on taking Tanlac till I was able to do all my work again. I had back all my lost weight, and I've been feeling years younger ever since. I'm always telling my friends about Tanlac, and can't say too much for it."

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad has on its pay-roll 52,000 employees, to whom it paid in 1923 over $75,000,000. Most of them have families and every one, no doubt, contributes something to the support of some family.

Based on the Government average of 4.3 persons to an American family, there are wholly supported or to some extent benefited by the wages of L. & N. employees over 200,000 people—a number greater than the population of a city the size of Atlanta, Ga.

In addition, thousands of other people are given employment in various industries from which the L. & N. buys materials and supplies of all descriptions, aggregating in 1923 over $37,000,000.

Moreover, these 200,000 people of the L. & N. family constitute a complete city; because there is no class of labor, and hardly a single profession, not represented among the L. & N.'s 52,000 employees.

These, and other facts which the L. & N. is making public, will enable you to realize the economic value of this great transportation system to the territory it serves. They should help you to remember that as this railroad prospers so you and your neighbors prosper, and that whatever hurts the L. & N. and restricts its capacity for profitable public service must necessarily hurt you and your community.
